

Hi Kelly,

This is Amy trace sister.

Ok so we have never really had that good of a life. We were in foster care for the first couple years of Trace's life.

Our mother was around for a while then started using drugs again so we are not super close with her. She comes around now but not much. Trace's brother has severe bipolar so everyone's time was put on him.

Two years ago his dad got taken to jail for molesting 6 of Trace's friends. This was extremely hard on Trace and he got picked on but his friends were always there for him. Trace went to school with these kids since kindergarten. I hated moving away from Churchill but I just needed to get away. This move was hard on Trace since he did not have any friends here in Springfield.

At the beginning of the year his brother was finally able to come back from leave from the army. Our brother who has bipolar and is 15 tried to kill himself. He was in the hospital for a couple weeks. This was extremely hard on Trace and then our grandma died in the same time period.

So its easy to say Trace has not had a very easy life but especially these last few years. The only thing that got him threw it was his friends and sports. I would hate it if he couldn't have one or the other. I want him to be as happy as possible, he deserves it.
