

The reason I Made, Made is playing football this year is because needed something to focus on to keep my grades up So I can try and finish my School year. I Haven't been playing in the past because there's a lot going on out side of school that was keeping me from playing like moving my 8th grade year with my Dad and moving back up here to my mom's. Between moving, back to a new school, and all that I didn't really want to play here But ever since I stop playing I losted focus to keep up on my school work.
Having my mom get sick was not good either. Before I moved to Oregon my mom had surgery on her heart, she had a pace maker put in. So I had some problems outside of school.
So my plan is to try and go back to playing football
