

Hi my name is Torrey Nelson I'm 15 I like to play football in Basketball I like math and english MY Freshman Year I went to Roosevelt high school in started my year off good I was passing all my classes until I started hanging with the wrong crowd of people, meaning a.s. gangmembers in people that smoke weed in falling off in school in sports I had got kicked off the football team Because a 10th grader kept messing with me in we had got in a fight after football season was over I started playing Basketball in it started off good then I stop playing Because Because I was getting treated fair I had switched schools to Franklin High School in at Franklin was doing ok But the teaching was good at all teacher would let you just leave class in not help with your work. I'm just trying get my life right by playing football in Basketball it keeps me away from the streets in I want something better in life instead of Being in the streets in you give me I chance I promise to keep all my grades up in be at school everyday in every class.
