My son William Blank is getting the chance to make a fresh start here in Central Oregon. He moved with his father over three years ago to St. Helens, his freshman year he and his dad moved towards the end of that year to N Medford High.

His father was in trouble for truancy with his older brother. His father wasn't around to help him with his homework or hold him accountable.

His older brother currently dropped out of school and is going to be a father this month. His older brother told him basically if you stay with dad you will probably end up like me, you should probably choose to go back to live with mom so this doesn't happen.

He has always wanted to do well and be successful but wanted to be close to his older brother at the same time.

The last thing I want to do is bash his father. I want to do this together as a team and encourage him, I don't want him to feel like he failed again. I am here to support him 100 percent and so excited that he wants to come back home!

Please give him a chance.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Edinger
