

To whom it may concern,

I am Daniel and i am writing you a letter to ask you about football. I failed two classes last year so I can not play right now. My parents got divorced and that shook me up pretty bad. I didn't really try, or even care, but now that I know the consequences I wish I that I tried harder. I also recently moved from Minnesota to Oregon in a really short notice because the house we were renting was sold. I am trying my best in all of my classes and even took up an online class just to play football. I plan to continue the class even after I can play football. Being on the football team is the best motivation I have to keep my grades up. I have many friends on the team and I don't want to let them down more than i already have.
