Re: Ava Mundy

To whom it may concern:

In 2013 Ava was diagnosed with severe anxiety and OCD. All during her freshman year she struggled with attendance at school because of this diagnosis. She continued to struggle her sophomore year until things really fell apart spring term. She ended up finishing the term with a school district provided tutor. She passed Geometry and British Literature and received an A- in German 1.

Over this last summer Ava's health improved tremendously under the supervision of a new doctor. Unfortunately the second week of school Ava came down with a bad virus and was out of school for a week and a half. She just got too behind because of her heavy course load which included two honors classes. So she enrolled in online school through Connections Academy in early October and is working hard on the four core classes she is taking. The online school is on a semester system and Canby high school is on a trimester system. Although Ava started online school 5 weeks late, she is working very hard to complete the entire semester's work in time to go back to Canby high school at the start of winter trimester at the end of November.

She swam her freshman year and received a varsity letter. She swam her sophomore year, but did not letter. She absolutely loves swimming and looks forward to participating this year as a junior on the swim team. When Ava is swimming, she is mentally and physically healthier and has better attendance at school.

Please consider Ava's request to be eligible to swim this year. It would mean the world to her to be able to participate.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
