To Whom It May Concern,

10/30/15

This letter is in support of Kobe Spencer's hardship. Kobe has family circumstances that are out of his control that have caused him to move to 4 different high schools and seek medical attention for depression. His family life was less than ideal with a father that has spent time in jail multiple times and a relationship with his mother that caused him to become depressed and unsuccessful in school and life. Due to these factors he moved to Creswell with his grandparents this summer. When he enrolled at Creswell he was .25 credits away from being on track to graduate.

Kobe came to Creswell this fall and has done well academically as well as socially. He appears to be really enjoying his time at Creswell. He is taking 2 online credit recovery classes that he is almost finished with that will put him ahead of the game on graduation. He is also passing all of his classes and has very good attendance.

Kobe has never played high school sports and would benefit greatly from the social aspect that sports offers. Please consider supporting this hardship as I believe it is best for the student. Please contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Jordan Osborn

To whom it may concern,

10/29/15

In my past I have attended multiple High Schools, including Willamette Leadership Academy, Sheldon High School, and Springfield High School. While I was living with my mother we would argue about everything possible. The environment at my moms was not healthy and I became depressed. I wanted to go to a doctor at that point to treat my depression but she refused to allow me to. At that point I was forced to move in with my father. Unfortunately the environment I moved into there was a broken home ruined with my father who was on methamphetamine at that point. So you can imagine it was not the greatest living environment either. That household consisted of my father, his girlfriend of 17 years, her daughter, and my half sister. While living there I felt as though I needed to be on guard 24/7 to protect not only myself, but also the people who meant the most to me, from the drugs, violence, and other people in our neighborhood. In August of 2014 my father got arrested for charges of possession of methamphetamine along with resisting arrest and interference with a peace officer. He did one night in jail and when he got home he claimed never to do it again. That promise did not last longer than 2 days before he was back out on the streets. A few long months of suffering later he was coming down from his high and the demons came out in the biggest outburst of them all, threatening to kill my step mom and her family members. For a while there was a warrant out for his arrest and after living on the streets and struggling to survive in the harsh weather we finally convinced him to turn himself in. He did jail time for one month January through February of 2015 and missed my birthday. I went to visit him a few times which was one of the hardest things I ever have done. One positive of living with my dad is I was able to go to the doctor. I was diagnosed as depressed and I received medication to help me out.

Going through my mind for months was a chance I could move in with my grandparents because not only did I know that there I would have a healthy home environment that would give me the chance to not only excel, but also it would push me to another level which at either of my previous homes I would have thought would be impossible. Ultimately, my grandfather had the most experience and could shape me into a man that could do anything he wanted. For years I have been close to them watching them take in people who need help and developing them for the better and pushing them to new heights. There were times in my life where I did not think I could amount to anything in my life but I have found myself here and feel myself completely changing as a person and I love it. I am currently passing all of my classes and taking several credit recovery courses. I am also feeling free of my depression and socially things are going well for me at Creswell.

I would love to have a chance to play sports this year being my last year in school. Sports help build relationships and that is something I personally have always struggled with. All of my friends have come from some sort of athletic competition it is my way of fitting in and I believe that people have noticed that as well. Please allow me to play this season I have worked so hard to get to this point coming back from an ACL injury and catching up on credits it would mean so much.

Sincerely, Kobe Spencer

Kobe Spencer

My Grandson, Kobe Spencer, is attending Creswell High School for his Senior year because he needs the stability and discipline that is a part of living with my wife and I.

His last three years have been filled with housing changes (4) and school changes (4 different schools). During that time Kobe faced depression which was finally diagnosed and prescribed for. His Father, who he had never lived with before, became a meth user and abusive. His Father ended up in jail due to violating a restraining order.

Kobe recognized last summer that his hopes to attend college and /or achieve success would be greatly enhanced by a more structured environment. He requested we allow him to live with us. We felt he was asking for the right reason. Not to run from something but to allow a better chance of positive achievement.

He is doing well in school and has a job. He has been responsible and positive so we see great promise.

He would like to participate in basketball and baseball and we support that dream. He has never played a sport at the OSAA level but might be able to make the team in a small school like Creswell. We believe the team experience and Coach driven goals will help Kobe to progress towards being a contributing citizen. Please allow Kobe to compete for Creswell High School.
