I had a really rough transcript last year. I definitely take full responsibility for that, but I also didn't have the support, stability or mental state as this year. I strongly believe I should be offered a chance at this years league because things have changed, I have changed. Basketball is a very important, motivational, inspirational positive physical activity that pushes me to reach my full potential and becoming more open to learning new things. I can say no more, I'd like to let my actions begin to show results.
