To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter on behalf of Tyrus Reitz, he is a senior at Ridgeview high school in Redmond, Oregon. He was behind in credits starting his senior year and that has made him ineligible to practice or play baseball. Tyrus is an outgoing young man who has made some poor decisions in the past and they have caught up to him. In the past two months he has improved his attendance and is passing all his classes. Mr. Reitz has been a contributing member of our Ridgeview school and trying to right his wrongs.

He will be the first to own up to his mistakes and regrets his past decisions, for they have cost him one and maybe two seasons of baseball. He is almost back on track to graduate with his class and is putting forth tremendous effort to reach his goals.

Tyrus loves the game of baseball and would love to have one more opportunity to play this game in high school. I hope you can help out and give him the chance to get back on the field.

Thank you,

Joshua O. Davis
