

Mr. Williams,

I recently moved to Lakeside, California, for three weeks in an attempt to qualify for a VA bill that would exempt me from paying tuition to attend a University of California school. This was a huge opportunity and I moved in with a good friend and his family living in Lakeside. After three weeks I was still having trouble settling in and missing my family and friends. I realized I would rather graduate with my class at Bend High and spend the last several months before I leave for college with my family. I moved back and picked up school where I left off.

Thank you,

Holden Hollenbeck
