RE: Kaitlyn Johnson

Kaitlyn Johnson is a freshman at Redmond High School. She is currently ineligible to play softball due to her move mid-year without a change of joint residence.

Kaitlyn began this school year at Ridgeview High School. She attended the first trimester and passed enough classes to be academically eligible for interscholastic sports. She and her family chose to have her transfer to Redmond which is her home school based on attendance boundary. Kaitlyn followed the district procedure for transfers. The reason she has given for transferring is that a boy who had been harassing her at RHS stopped doing so and made her want to move to her home school.

Kaitlyn has an IEP and has been placed on a modified diploma. I do not believe that her move is athletically motivated. I believe that being able to participate in the JV softball team would be a good opportunity for her. Softball will provide her a lot more than she will provide the team.

Yours respectfully,
