Reasons for Leaving

My reason and preference for transferring to Marshfield high school is that, my real parents decided to make me an independent adult and move away without me. Another reason is that, my stepdad was abusive and controlling so I honestly didn't want to live with him. My girlfriend and her parents agreed to let me stay with them until graduation. She lives in coos bay and it would be hard on gas to drive to north bend high school every day with one car. After soccer season at North Bend, I decided to transfer over to Marshfield. I have been with them for almost 6 months now and my girlfriend convinced me to try out for track. In this understanding being my senior year I want fully extend my athletic ability and finish my senior year off by participating in every activity I can. As you may see I transferred for my own well-being not because I wanted to.
