To whom it may concern; my daughter Jasmine Baurtista was involved in a physical altercation at Mountain View High School. Due to it she was expelled for the first semester. Jasmine had to serve community service and had to pay off fees as a consequence. Jasmine hadn't been doing well with her grades at that moment but since the incident I'm glad to say that she has been doing an amazing job to get her grades up in order to play softball. She has been doing good inside and outside of school. She has learned to use her words instead of confrontation. As an individual she is a great daughter, friend, and athlete. She has learned from this expericene, I can see the change in behavior not only as her Mom but as a person. I would love and appriciate it if you gave her the chance to prove her self and her changed behavior. This will be her third year playing for Mountain View if you allow this to happen for her. I know she hasnt played long but she loves this sport and wants to be able to become a better player to play in college. I would like to see my daughter be successful in what she likes to do, Thank you for your time!.
